Comp. Renovations Underway;

A Class History

Although our four years at Chicopee Comprehensive High School have now come to an end, these four years have in reality been the beginning. The beginning of our beliefs, ideas, and development as individuals along with the beginning of our futures.

During these four years we faced many personal and national tragedies. We became more aware of the world around us; consequently, we became more mature and responsible. The beginning of adulthood had taken place.

Also during our high school years we faced many difficult decisions and questions which needed to be answered. The fright of freshman year, the excitement of sophomore year, and the rowdiness of junior year all passed by so quickly leading to the anxiety of senior year. What will I do after high school? What will I grow up to be? Should I go to college? What college do I want to go to? All these questions needed to be answered within a few months while the outcome of these answers would affect the rest of our lives.

Our high school years have been the best years of our lives and the beginning of our lives as matured adults ready to step into the real world. Maybe in a year or five or ten years, we will open our year book, look at these next few pages and reminisce about these past four years and realize that these really were the best years of our lives.

Freshman Year

As we entered Comp in 1978 for our freshman year, we didn't know what to expect. We were on new territory and unsure about our future. We became the targets of upperclassmen's pranks and insults; furthermore, the four years until graduation seemed to be miles away. Little did we realize that these four years were going to be the best years of our lives.

When we entered Comp, the school was in the process of undergoing many changes and renovations. Under Principal Stanley J. Ziemba an Instructional Media Center (IMC) was built to house our new school library. A new entrance from Montgomery Street into Comp was installed to solve the traffic and busing problems. The athletic field, gymnasium, and cafeteria were also renovated in 1978, and during that same year equal rights left its mark on Comp by developing coed gym classes.

The most embarrassing incident of our freshman year was when our freshmen sign was spelled wrong during the first school rally, and we carried the ridiculous name of "freshman" throughout the year.

Despite the beneficial changes which were ocurring at Comp, there was much distress in the world during our freshman year. On September 28, 1978 Pope John Paul I died after serving as pontiff for only thirty-three days. The world was stricken with despair and sorrow.

After slowly recovering from the Pope's death, the world was once again hit with more brutal and disasterous news. On November 18, 1978 United States Representative Leo Ryan and four others were killed by members of the People's Temple in Jonestown, Guyana. Hours later over 900 people were found lying dead along with their cult leader, Reverend Jim Jones, who had taken control of them and convinced them to commit suicide.

Two terrifying accidents occurred during the end of our freshman year. On March 28, 1979 an accident took place at the nuclear power plant at Three Mile Island in Pennsylvania. Above normal levels of radiation leaked out, and there was a serious threat of a nuclear core melt down. Two months later a terrible plane crash made the headlines. Shortly after take-off from Chicago's O'Hare Airport an American Airlines' DC-10 jetliner lost its engine. This disaster cost the lives of all 273 persons on board.

Between September 1978 and June 1979, we lost the lives of many talented and loved people. Edgar Bergen, Nelson Rockefeller, John Wayne, Gene Tunney, and Keith Moon died leaving their memories behind.

Even though we faced these tragedies, we also faced many achievements toward a better future. On October 16, 1978 Karol Cardinal Wojtlyla became Pope John Paul II, the first non-Italian Pope in 456 years. China and the United States shook hands and finally established full diplomatic relations. Margaret Thatcher became the first woman Prime Minister of Great Britain.

We also celebrated two historical birthdays and a centennial during our freshman year. The first was Mickey Mouse's 50th birthday. The second was the birth of the first test tube baby. It's a girl! and it was born to parents in England. In March of 1979 we honored Albert Einstein through a centennial.

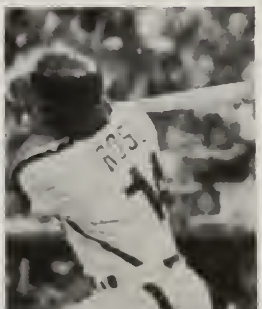
Many names and faces broke through the ordinary during our freshman year. In sports Steve Cauthen, age 18, won the Triple Crown; Nancy Lopez made her debut as a professional woman golfer; Muhammed Ali defeated Leon Spinks in the ring; Bjorn Borj was the winner at the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament and Pete Rose smashed his 3000th career hit, and also held the modern day record of a 44 game hitting streak.

The television series of the year was the hilarious show "Mork N' Mindy" and following the series was the often repeated saying "Nano Nano". Movie goers crowded into theaters to see the biggest hit "Grease" starring Olivia Newton John and John Travolta. "Saturday Night Fever" followed right behind in "Grease's" steps. Other smash hits were: "Annie Hall", "The Boys From Brazil", and "National Lampoon's Animal House."

Debby Boone lit up the charts with her hit song, "You Light Up My Life." The record of the year was "Hotel California" recorded by the Eagles. The album of the year was "Rumours" by Fleetwood Mac, and the group of the year was the "BeeGees".

The best seller list contained such books as "The Second Generation, Mommie Dearest, If Life is a Bowl of Cherries What Am I Doing in the Pits, and The Complete Book of Running.

Our freshman year passed quickly. We were glad because there were now only three more years until graduation; yet, we were sad because many of the events of our first year were not just memories.



1979 Sophomore Year 1980

"I know it will be pleasant to retire because I will not have the same routine everyday, yet it will not be easy to adjust to retirement because I love it here at Comp . . . ". These were the parting words of Mr. Stanley J. Ziemba who retired as Principal of Chicopee Comprehensive High School on August 31, 1979.

In September of 1979 we re-entered Comp as sophomores under a new Principal and under a new course of direction. Mitchell S. Kuzdzal took the position of Principal and immediately began to initiate new programs and policies in our school. A new attendance policy went into effect establishing five, ten, and fifteen day notices for absences. We also adopted a Hearing Impaired Program which was the only secondary level education facility for the hearing impaired in Western Massachusetts. However, the most important changes which occurred during our sophomore year were the changes which dealt with the new course of direction of our class as sophomores. During sophomore year, we purchased our class rings revealing the pride and honor we had in our school and becoming a bigger part of Comp. We also started to take the initial steps toward graduation. We elected class officers early in the year and began our candy sale as a fund raiser for our class. On St. Patrick's Day we started a tradition of selling green carnations: this tradition would be carried throughout our high school years.

Although our class began to move forward, the world did not and suffered a serious setback during our sophomore year. The United States faced one of its most crucial crisis since the Vietnam War. On November 4, 1979 4000 angry Iranian students under the influence of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini marched to the United States Embassy in Tehran and demanded the return of the ousted Shah, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi. The Shah was presently in a New York hospital receiving medical help for gall bladder problems and treatment for cancer. Shortly afterwards the students forced their way into the embassy, seized control of the building, and held approximately 60 American diplomats hostage. The Iranian crisis had begun and little did the country realize that this crisis would last for 444 days.

During our sophomore year many attempts and steps were taken to free our hostages. President Jimmy Carter banned the import of Iranian oil, froze all Iranian assets in the United States, and threatened deportation of all illegal students. However, the only hostages which were released were women and blacks-because the students believed they were an oppressed people. A message was attached with their release stating, "the rest of the hostages will be tried and punished" because of the embassy's alleged espionage activities.

"Operation Blue Light" was an attempt to free our hostages with the aid of eight RH 53 helicopters and six C-130 Hercules transport planes. The operation was a disasterous failure when a helicopter collided with a plane loaded with ammunition causing the death of eight men and injuring five others. At the end of our sophomore year, America was still held hostage!

Further complications adding to the Iranian crisis were the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan and the presidential elections both in Iran and the United States. By December 27, 1979 Afghanistan's President Hafizullah Amin was ousted from power apparently by the USSR, and by December 29th, "substantial numbers" of Soviet troops were reported crossing into Afghanistan.

Scattered throughout the year were two environmental disasters. In the beginning of the year, Hurricane David swept through Dominica, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, and the east coast of the United States killing approximately 1000 people and destroying thousands of homes. On May 18, 1980 at precisely 8:32 A.M. a dreaded disaster occurred. Mount St. Helens in Washington erupted after being dormant 123 years. There were 34 persons who were killed during the volcanic eruption and 28 were missing and presumed to be dead. The total monetary damage was estimated at $2.7 billion dollars. This May 18th eruption was followed by six lesser ones; consequently Washington took on the nickname "ashington".

Despite these tragic episodes, the United States still had several advances in the medical, scientific, and governmental departments. On October 17, 1979 the United States Department of Education became the 13h cabinet in the government. During this same month the World Health Organization announced the total eradication of small pox. Also in the medical field, a national virus fighting substance called interferon was manufactured in the lab for the first time. Science progressed with a closer look at the planets Saturn, by U.S. Spacecraft Pioneer 11, and Jupiter, by the Spacecraft Voyager 1.

During the sports season between 1979 and 1980 we faced many triumphs. During the Winter Olympics at Lake Placid the United States won six gold medals, four silver medals, and two bronze medals. The United States hockey team brought one of those gold medals home after thirteen days of competition. "The Boys of Winter" basked in their glory as Jim Craig, the goalie of the hockey team, wrapped himself in the American flag which reflected the emotional impact on the young teams success. Eric Heiden, a speedskater for the United States, also became a star during the Winter Olympics. He not only became the first athlete to win five gold medals, but also he set five Olympic records and one world record.

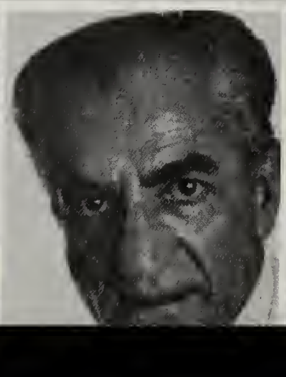
An upset in the sports world occurred on April 12, 1980 when the House of Delegates of the U.S. Olympic Committee voted 1604 to 797 in favor of a boycott of the Summer Olympics in Moscow. The boycott was led by the United States and followed by dozens of other Western Nations. The reason was obvious: the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan in December.

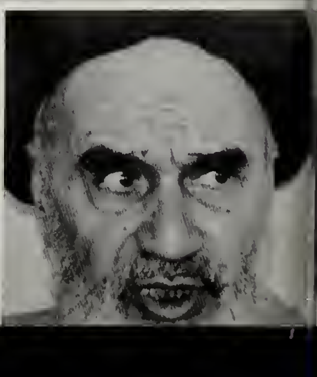
Among the movies of the year were: "Kramer VS Kramer", "The Deer Hunter", "Superman", "Apocalypse Now", "The China Syndrome", "Star Trek", and "Rocky II".

The trend of disco was still popular during our sophomore year. Disco rollerskating became the big fad and dance music became the popular choice. Donna Summer, The Village People, Chic, Rod Stewart, and Blondie became the popular disco artists.

Other trends were toward the already well established rock bands such as Led Zeppelin and The Who. The Who released two films during this year, "The Kids Are Alright" and "Quadrophenia."

The excitement of sophomore year had passed, and we were already half way through high school. Our class was looking forward to the next two years of high school which would lead us to graduation-and open the doors to our future. With everyone looking forward, the past two years just faded in our minds.





1980 Junior Year 1981

Junior year finally came around, and we were no longer underclassmen. We were upperclassmen and in the third year of high school. During this year we faced the pronounced effects of Proposition 2½. Teachers, classes, and extracurricular activities were cut for the end of this year and for our upcoming senior year. However, we still made use of our time by becoming more involved in the activities which remained. Our class actively participated in the Magazine Drive and we met our class goal. We beat the seniors in the traditional Powder Puff football game during Homecoming Weekend by a crushing score of sixteen to zero. During the Christmas season we once again outshined the seniors when our class collected more cans than any other class for the Canned Food Drive. "The Best of Times" was chosen as the theme for our Junior Prom because those four words summed up our feelings toward our junior year. We were now becoming aware of the significance and excitement of our high school years which were passing by so quickly.

Prior to entering school in September of 1980, Iran was still holding the American diplomats hostage. Further negotiations and steps were taken to free the hostages but no agreements had been made. On July 27, 1980 the former Shah Of Iran died in Cairo of cancer.

During the beginning of our junior year, the United States Congress became involved in the most controversial federal investigation of corruption on Capital Hill. Operation Abscam identified 31 federal, state, and local officials as subjects for inquiry into political corruption. Undercover agents posed as wealthy Arabs or their representatives who were interested in buying political influence. The congressmen who accepted their bribes were secretly videotaped by the Federal Bureau of Investigation during the transaction. Among those convicted in Abscam were Democrat Representatives Frank Thompson Jr., John M. Murphy, Michael Myers, Raymond F. Lederer, and John W. Jenrette.

The 1980 presidential elections took place in November of our junior year. The election itself and the outcome of the election were unique. For the first time since 1924 there were three presidential candidates: Republican Ronald Reagan, Democrat Jimmy Carter, and Independent John Anderson. Ronald Reagan was victorious in the election and once again the G.O.P. took control of the Senate. The major issues of the campaign were the Iranian crisis and the hostage situation along with the present economic affairs. On January 20, 1981 Ronald Reagan was sworn in as the 40th President of the United States; furthermore on that same day after 444 days in captivity, the American hostages were released. Throughout the Iranian crisis the patriotism and unity of the United States was the strongest it had been since the 1940's. The release of the hostages was celebrated with enthusiasm and zeal such as was displayed during the New York City Ticker-Tape Parade. In Washington D.C. the hostages were honored at the White House. The Iranian crisis was over!!!

During the years of 1980 and 1981 there were numerous assassinations and assassination attempts. On December 8, 1980 former Beatle John Lennon was shot outside his New York City apartment by Mark David Chapman. In the spring of 1981 John Hinckley Jr. attempted to assassinate President Reagan outside a hotel in Washington. Ronald Reagan, his press secretary (James Brady), and two security officers were wounded during the incident. Two months later another assassination attempt took place. A Turkish terrorist, Mehmet Ali Agca, shot Pope John Paul II at St. Peter's Square in Rome. Fortunately the Pope recovered quickly. Throughout our junior year and continuing into the beginning of our senior year were the numerous murders of black children in Atlanta. The unsolved "Atlanta killings" left fear in the hearts of Americans.

Along with the numerous assassination attempts which took place, there were also numerous strikes which were occurring throughout our junior year. The first was a 50 day baseball strike by all the major league baseball teams. Deadlocked negotiations, empty ball parks, and collective bargaining among the players and managers replaced the normal activities of the baseball season. The next major strike was the revolt of the workers in Poland. Approximately 150,000 workers walked off their jobs demanding higher pay, lower food prices, free labor unions with the legal right to strike, abolition of censorship, and freedom for all political prisoners. They organized themselves under their strike leader, Lech Walesa, and took on the name of "Solidarity". Despite martial law and threats of Soviet intervention, the strike still continued throughout junior year and throughout senior year. The last strike which occurred during our junior year was the fatal hunger strike of Bobby Sands. Sands was the Irish Republican Army leader who endured 66 days of starvation. The purpose of his revolt was to force the British government to grant political prisoners status to Irish nationalist inmates rather than treating them as common criminals. Bobby Sands died in vain as Margaret Thatcher refused the IRA's demands.

On April 12 the United States had a dramatic uplift when the first re-usable space shuttle was launched with success. John Young and Robert Crippen piloted the space shuttle Columbia which made 36 orbits.

REO Speedwagon dominated the charts with their number one album "Hi-Infidelity". On New Year's Eve Kim Carne's song "Bette Davis Eyes" was revealed as the number one song of the year.

During our junior year the cinemas were playing such popular movies as "Superman II", "Arthur", "Raiders of the Lost Ark", "Endless Love", and many others.

Junior year faded into the summer before our senior year. We faced the last year of high school and the most crucial year. All the difficulties and problems of our junior year seemed very minimal to the difficult decisions and questions we would face in the last of our high school years.

Senior Year

September 9, 1981, the beginning of the end of our years at Comp. It was a big day for us; we finally made it. We were Seniors! Senior year was a time of mixed emotions. As we started counting the months, weeks, and days to graduation, we also started to realize that we would be experiencing our greatest changes and challenges.

As we were experiencing mixed emotions about our senior year, the world was also having its ups and downs. On September 25, the United States experienced elation with the selection of the first woman Supreme Court justice, Sandra Day O'Connor. Just as Justice O'Connor was proud to be a first, so was our senior class. For the first time the Class of '82 wore their zany hats, senior tee-shirts, and above all for the first time we sat in the senior section at our rally.

During the summer of 1981 as we started our summer fun, two people started a life together. For on July 29, a spectacular wedding took place. Watched by over 750 million people, Prince Charles of England and Lady Diana Spencer exchanged vows in the most extravagant wedding of the century. Another wedding which took place in the summer also received nationwide attention. Laura Webber Baldwin married Lucas Lorenzo Spencer on the number one day time soap opera, General Hospital.

Also during our summer, relief came from the terrifying Atlanta murders. Wayne B. Williams was arrested for the murder of two of the 28 Atlanta killings. Ironically, no other murder has since taken place. As one conflict ends another begins. Rejecting a Federal contract, the Air Traffic Controllers went on an illegal nationwide strike. President Reagan refused to give in; he gave a back to work order which if defied would cause the strikers to be fired and not rehired. The order was defied; consequently, new hiring took place.

As we came back for our final year of high school, other people were having their comebacks also. On September 19 before half a million people in New York's Central Park, Simon and Garfunkel gave a comeback concert after ten years. Another group came back to give concerts in Worchester, MA., Hartford, Conn., and other major cities. Lead by the famous Mick Jagger, the Rolling Stones began to revive their old music and establish their new. Muhammed Ali and Joe Frazer both had comebacks; unfortunately they were unsuccessful- both fighters lost.

A tremendous loss to the world occurred on October 6. During a military parade near Cairo, one of America's greatest Mideast allies and a man devoted to seeking peace, Anwar El-Sadat the Egyptian President, was gunned down.

In spite of the world's turmoil, the greatness of the class of 82 stood strong. We were winners! Again the girls of '82 won the traditional Powder Puff football game, and at Christmas time our class out did all others in the Canned Food Drive. Our pride was showing. We demonstrated our enthusiasm by attending many of the football, basketball, and other school team's games.

Senior year was filled with various types of entertainment. Not only did the Rubik's cube with its 43 quintillion possible configurations make its way into our school but also the punk fads with its crazy outfits, glasses, and hairdos. The contagious senioritis was spreading fast! We listened to the old songs of the Doors, the Stones, and the Kinks; yet, we also listened to the new sounds of the Police, Pat Benatar, and Loverboy. The movies which entertained us were also varied, from the serious drama in "On Golden Pond" to the comedy in "Modern Problems" with "Venom", "Reds", and "Taps" in between.

While startled New England was feeling the effects of many earthquakes from Canada, America was feeling the effects of the loss of Natalie Wood, Paul Lynde, the first woman U.S. governor Ella Grasso, and Moche Dayan.

The world was on the move with its scientific development. The first solar plane was piloted across the English Channel; the first cross-country air balloon, Super Chicken II, was successfully flown, and in December 1981 - Americans became the surrogate parents to the first United States test tube baby.

Unfortunately our final year at Comp was not without its tragedies. In January 1982, an Air-Florida plane whose wings had become dangerously covered with ice crashed into a bridge and fell into the Potomac River. After days of searching, divers recovered the 78 missing bodies. Soon after this tragedy another plane accident occurred in Boston. A plane tried to land at Logan Airport but did not quite make it; the plane glided into Boston Harbor. The airport claimed no deaths but a few days later two people were discovered missing.

Despite the many tragedies occurring in the world, we at Chicopee Comprehensive will remember senior year as a great year! It was the last year we had together and we made the best of every moment. We celebrated our love and friendship. We enjoyed the excitement of the first HER dance and we delighted in each others company at all the senior activities. We were mighty mighty seniors who were now ready to step into the real world, but we would never forget all the good times and bad times that we shared throughout our high school years.

To the Class of 1982,

I would like to sincerely thank you for electing me your class president for the past three years. Through my experience as president, I realized a great deal about our outstanding class. We have come a long way from freshman year and have made considerable progress. Through all the class spirit and determination we possess, we have become a strong, united class.

Also, I would like to thank the administration and especially our class advisors who have donated their time, effort, and guidance in helping our class, the Class of 1982, become strong and successful.

Our high school career has ended and the time has come for us to go our separate ways. Even though our paths may differ, the memories that Chicopee Comprehensive High School has engraved in our hearts will stay with us always.

Thank you for making Chicopee Comprehensive High School a wonderful memory and best of luck in all of your future endeavors.

Sincerely yours,
Heidi R. McCool

To the Class of 1982,

Graduation is a time of both reflection on the past and excitement about the future. At this most significant time in your lives so far, we wish to leave you with our reflections upon the class and our wishes for your future.

Although graduation is traditionally the occasion upon which the graduates thank the staff and faculty for their help, we wish to be the first to thank you, the Class of 1982, for all you have done for us as advisors. Without the enthusiasm and dedicated works of all of you, the many projects which this class has undertaken would have amounted to nothing. You have taught us, as well as yourselves and those who follow you, what hard work, cooperation and tolerance can achieve. This class has conducted itself with pride and dignity, upholding the finest traditions of Chicopee Comprehensive High School.

High School is more than the facts, drills and skills you must acquire to earn a living, for there are lessons to be learned outside the classroom walls. You have learned to examine issues from many sides, to evaluate information and to make sound decisions. Hopefully, you have learned the importance of working with others whose opinions and approaches may differ widely from yours. All these lessons will be necessary to function in society.

You leave us now to become citizens of a larger world and students in a classroom whose walls stretch to your own horizons and whose ceiling is but the sky. Your lessons will be many and your tests the ways in which you solve the problems confronting you as adults. However, all is only an extension of lessons you have learned here in how to analyze, decide and act. May this larger school, this world which you now enter as adults, hold valuable lessons and the happiness and rewards you so richly deserve.

Letters To:

The Class Of '82!

To the Graduating Class of 1982,

As you enter the adult world I would like to offer the following for your consideration:

Establish your values and priorities and periodically review them. You cannot establish goals until you determine what is important in your life. Strive for success in every endeavor but be ready to accept defeat. In your dealings with friends, neighbors, relatives and co-workers topics of conversation usually fall into three categories; 1) ideas 2) events 3) people. Concentrate on the first two and minimize the last, thereby respecting the privacy of others. Stand up and be counted on issues and although you will often be in the minority it will be gratifying experience and you will gain the respect of others.

Specialized Academics

Vocational

Vocational Education trains the students to develop skills, understandings, and work habits necessary to gain employment in a certain trade. The shops include Auto body, Auto repair, Cabinet, Electrical, Machine, Electronics, Power stitching, Machine drafting, Welding, and Small Engines. Freshmen can now enroll in the Vocational Exploratory Program in which the students choose from three different vocational/occupational courses. Including freshmen there are over 500 students involved in the program.

Distributive Education

For students interested in a career in merchandising and distribution, there is the Distributive Education program. This program allows the students to go directly to a job or to continue their education in coleges offering the program following graduation. Students are dismissed after Period four for On-the-job training, for which they are graded and given credits.

Telecommunications

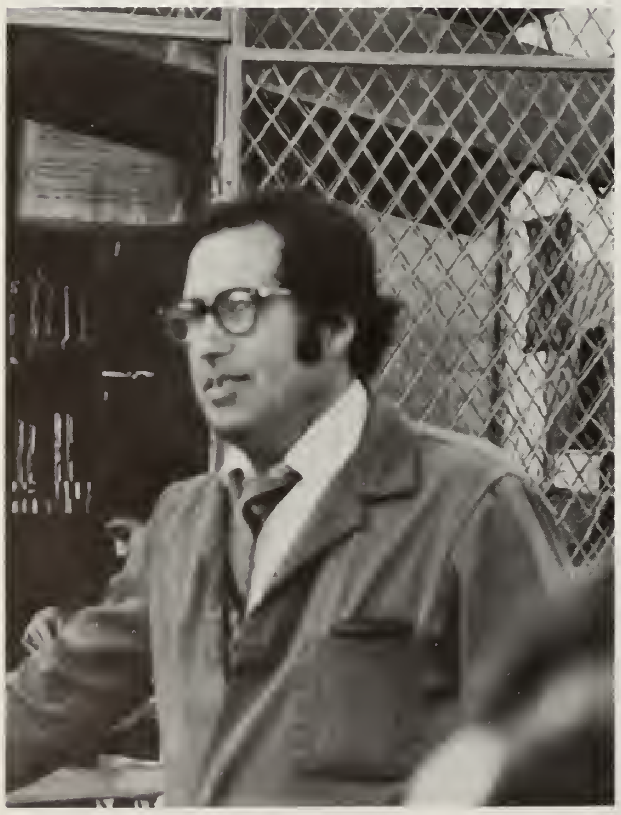
Telecommunications is a program designed to provide the educational and practical experience necessary for the students choosing creative arts and television broadcasting/electronics as his or her occupation.

Students in grades 11 or 12 can participate in this two year program. Admission to the program is determined by a personal interview and by the Telecommunications Admissions Committee. Programs produced by Telecom can be seen on Chicopee Cable.

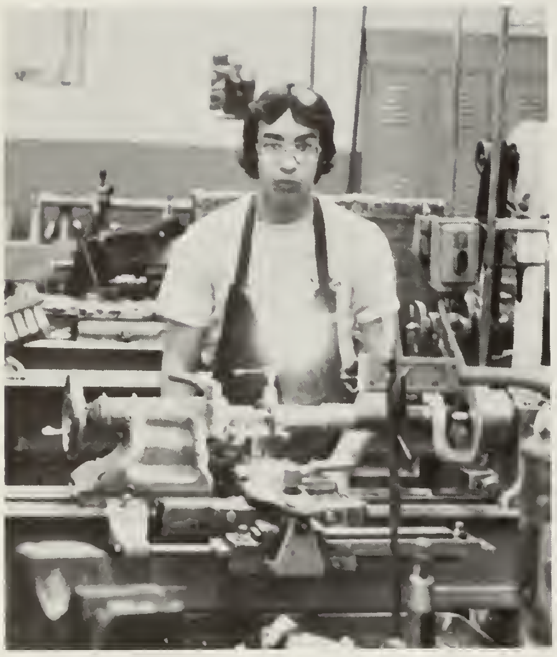
Vocational

Auto Body

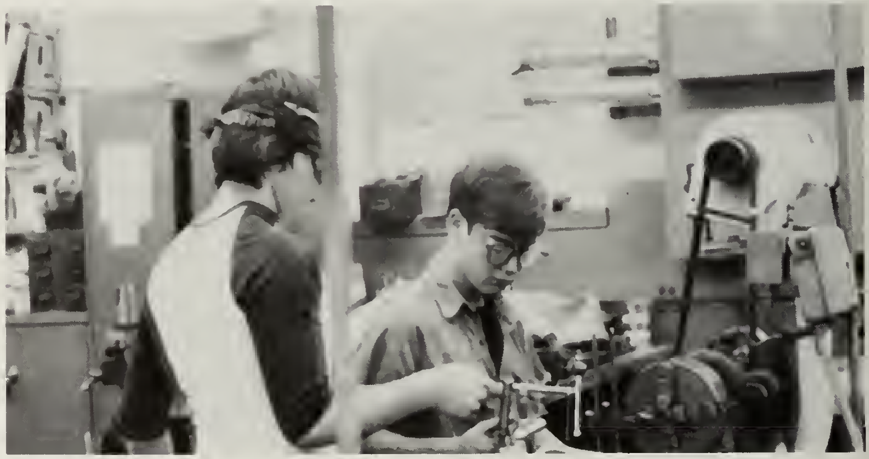
This course offers training in the methods of repair and maintenance of automotive bodies. Experience is provided in painting and in restoring the body to its original contour.

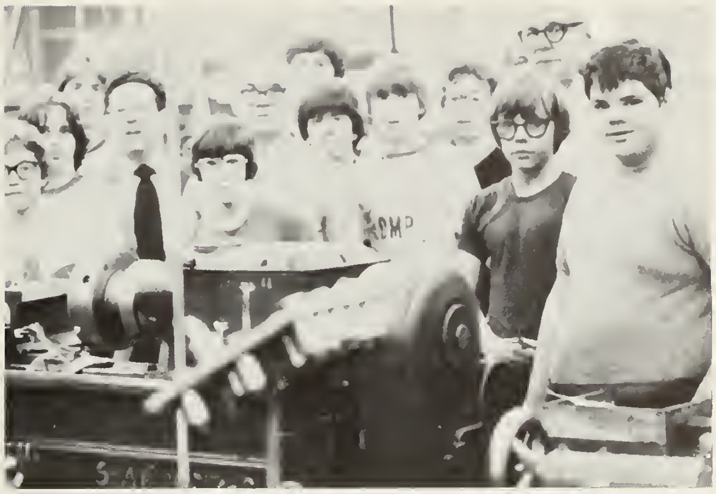


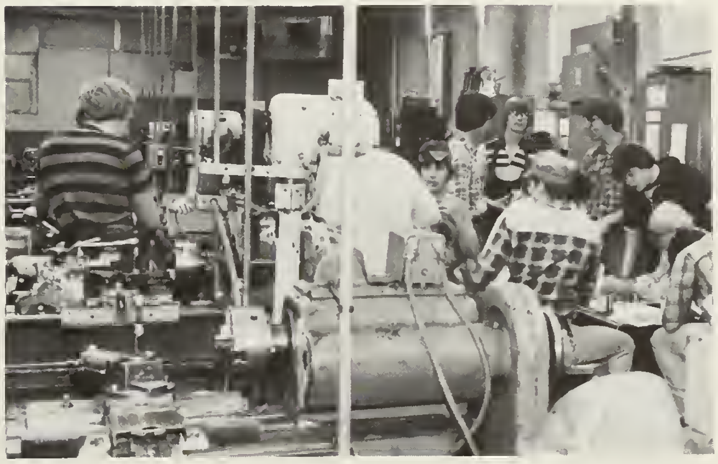
Machine Shop

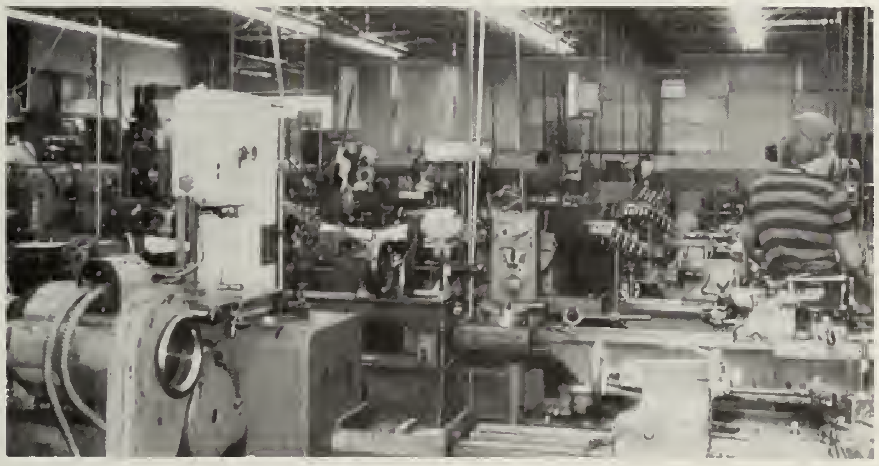


Machine shop training includes instructions in Blueprint Readings, Related Mathematics used in Machine trade, Job Estimating, Metallurgy, Metal Testing, Design and Industrial Safety. This course also introduces the basic operations of the Engine Lathe, Turret Lathe, Horizantal and Vertical milling machine and Shaper.









Auto Repair

The Auto Repair course consists of four ten week terms of instructions in:

1. General repairs
2. Front end alignment, balancing
3. Tune-up, auto emissions, air conditioning
4. Automotive machine, engine rebuilding

Welding

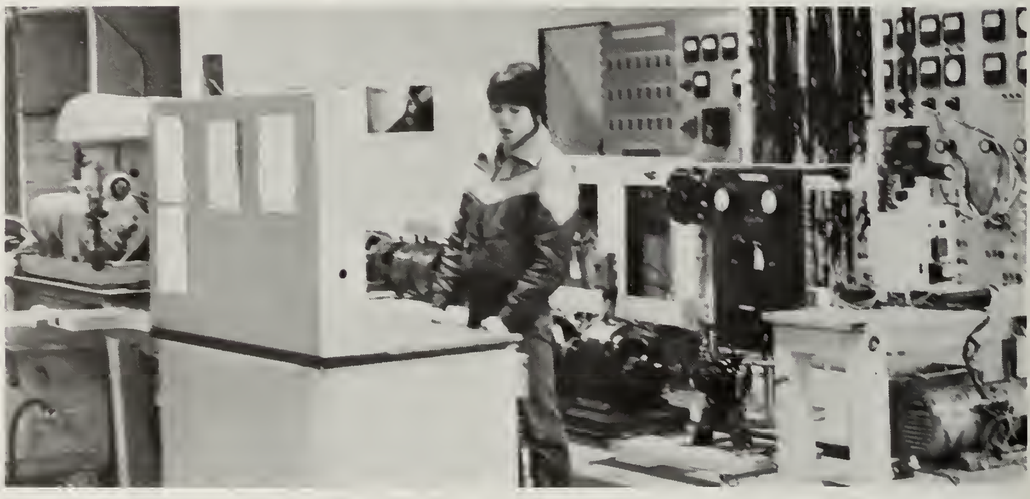
The Welding shop offers training in metallic arc welding, heliarc welding, oxy-acetylene cutting, resistance welding, and other related subjects such as blueprint reading.

Cabinet

The Cabinet Making course teaches students to analyze and read drawings, to plan operations, to use machine and hand tools, to select lumber, to layout cabinets and other items of wood, and shaping and assembling.

Electrical

In Electrical shop students learn fundamentals of wiring for residential, industrial and commercial applications, using the latest tools and techniques of the electrical trade. The course includes the study of motors and controllers, and house wiring.



Electronics

The Electronics course will include electronics theory, special circuitry, solid state devices and a third year advanced program in computer repair.

Small Engines

The Small Engines course covers two-cycle, four-cycle, chain saw and a third year advanced student motorcycle engine repair.

Coordinator of Secondary Education

As graduates, you have opened exploratory paths to newer and broader horizons. Remember, each and everyone of you represent the future.

You must continue seeking and searching for more tolerable methods to ameliorate societal malignacies that are so prevalent in our world today. The search will be arduous, tedious and most often frustrating.

You must never allow defeat, bitterness or prejudice destroy your will to seek the inevitable which is fair, humane justice for those who love democracy - love our country.

Your individual innovative and creative processes should lend and blend toward a goal of unity, brotherhood, and intellectural growth.

With zeal and sincerity of purpose, you may be able to constrain or, at least, restrain the malignancies of corruptive and disruptive elements that are so prevalent in our society.

Love is not extinct and it should never be. The family should not become extinct. You should combine your energies to work as a team to restore friendliness, happiness, trust, togetherness within the family. Bring happiness to your lives and to others who understand the concepts of tolerance and who accept a person for what he is rather than who he is.

(Life should be a bondage of love and unity).

The range of uses of mathematics is as wide as the abilities of high school boys and girls. Intelligent guidance should guarantee that every high school pupil study mathematics according to his need and ability. We stress the importance of taking as many courses in mathematics as one can handle for a strong college background.

As the complexity and competitiveness of our civilization increase, it becomes more apparent that a basic knowledge of the natural principles of science is not only a helpful tool, but is, in reality, an absolute necessity. With this premise clearly in mind, the Science Department considers as its primary goal the adequate preparation of the student.

Christmas/Canned Food Ralley

Big year for Santa.

Ho! Ho! Ho! everybody!

What is the meaning of Christmas? At Comp., Christmas means the remembering of those that are less fortunate than ourselves. We at Comp. have collected many cans of food for many years, and had another big collection in 1981. The Class of '82 was the leader again, showing its pride and class.

And what would you like?

Winter Cotillion

FACULTY PATRON

Mary G. Rodgers

To Future Seniors —

To Linda K. I leave you all the fun times and the bad times of senior year - and as a part of the bad times, I leave you my "favorite" person in the whole, entire world. Patty G.

I leave to my brother, Keith, all the good times at Comp. Mark Devoto.

To Mr. White: With lots of love, I leave you my elf costume! (But I don't suggest you try it on!) Karen Hamel.

To next years seniors I leave all the memories, senior parties, and my computer pass to get you all lunches. Brenda Hupfer.

I leave you my locker and my unfavorite teachers. Good Luck next year.

Thanks, Mr. Fleury, for the advice that you have given me towards my Nikon. See ya. Love Mary.

To Roy and Paul I leave my bottle of aspirin—you'll need it for all the headaches school will bring. To the faculty, especially Mr. Mathieu and Mr. Moran, I leave my heartfelt thanks for making my years at Comp. memorable, despite the headaches. Debbie Lapite.

Sis. Lisa, To you I leave all the good times of Senior year. Sis. Mich.

I, Darlene Belle-Isle, leave to Shirley Gregory the bench down in the main office and all the memories that go with it.!

Carolyn Sears and Lynn Gorham, I leave the best senior year ever and all the parties to go with it! Penny.

I leave to next year's Cross-Country Captain, all the backaches and headaches from trying to organize a totally disorganized group of runners. I also leave him all the good memories that come from leading the best group of athletes any sport has to offer. Scott Redfern (captain, '82.)

To the Landwaster, I leave my Beep and prepaid Ins.; to Berek, I leave a hand and MA Todd.

To Steve B., I leave my parking space and my collection of girls. Smutnik.

I, Todd Rock, leave to Mark Chmiel my ABPA Baseball and the great memories from my last summer. To my sister, Heidi, I leave all the good memories I had.

I leave to Mr. Hoot, the humpties and all stock in cold spray. John Conner.

To all lower classmen, maintain the Senior motto - Party a lot; Study not. Goose & Tex.

To Al Peltier, I leave all my love and memories of all the learning, loving, happy experience has given me my junior and senior years. I love you, little Kathy B.

To Nancy Bouchard, I leave the position of being a team captain, my old dusty cleats, and lots of prayers for next year's soccer season. To my sisters, I leave all my extra credits and late passes, and the knowledge to learn from my experiences or suffer. Lisa Pomeroy.

To Ed Doray I leave our spot on the 3rd floor intersection and Elba's banana peel outfit. To Mrs. Barnes I leave Darlene Belle-Isle's pancake batter she poured down the drain. To Tina Martell I leave all the Patty Poos. Amy Baranowski

I Sandy Getto leave to Kim Cataw the memories of the Summer of '80 (with the green M&M's and R.L.) Good Luck.

To Linda, I leave all my late nights of studying and all the days of walking to and from school when you don't have the benefits of my car. Cindy D. P.S. I also leave you all the underclassmen! If you want them, especially T.J.!

FUTURE VARSITY GOALIE, We leave the rubber balls, and the PAINS and ACHES of being a goalie. Marlene, Lorie

I leave to my darling sister Dina Mia all my extra credits and a McDonalds Happy Meal. Marco.

I Shelley Pepin, leave to Mr. Pinciak, many thanks for all the help you've given me. To my brothers Dave, Rickey, and Tommy I leave you all the good times that come with high school.

GO BOZ

— Just Between Us

In Recognition

In recognition to those few who gave their time and energy into the arduous task of publishing this yearbook.

To the administration for their help and concern; Mr. Mitchell Kuzdzal, Mrs. Julie Leonard, Mr. Douglas Gray, and especially Mr. Alfred Pinciak.

To Mr. Don Lendry, yearbook company representative, for helping us to meet our deadlines and giving of his guidance and time.

To Mr. Roger Fleury for providing us with much needed color photographs of excellent quality.

To The Greniers for understanding when we had deadlines and rushed our photos.

Finally, to Mr. Raymond Boulais who ended his outstanding job as yearbook advisor with Memini 82 after many years.

Patrick Welch
Editor

To Laurie Hambley and Trisha McNerny who worked incredibly hard to put together an outstanding Senior section despite a shortage of time and pictures of a variety of people.

To Angel Asselin and Scott Redfern who raised a record amount of funds despite a small staff. Thanks to them, Memini 82 is the first Comp yearbook to pay for the color section out of its own budget.

To Chris Dsmarias and Kevin Edwards for their great athletics section. Kevin also did the art for the section.

To Toni Landa for working alone on the Specialized Academics section and doing a fantastic job.

To Lezlie Leone, who also worked alone, for her hard work on the Faculty section.

To Photography editors Tom Collins and Bob Roy for doing their best to provide the yearbook with the hundreds of photos needed.

To artist Michelle Geoffrion for the lettering in the Classes section, for the collages in the Senior and Athletics sections, and the stylish table of contents.

To Paul D. Roy for running a successful subscription drive.

To Bill Lockart and Mary Kapper for preparing an exceptional Activities section.

To David Lapointe for a distinctive and different Classes section.

To Renee Parent and Ann Fowler for doing the research and compilation for the Class History.

To Nance Richardson for donating the "Sunset Over Comp" picture.
